DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Daimon et al., U.S. Patent 4,752,526 (hereinafter "Daimon") or Yasukawa et al., U.S. Patent No. 5,145,891 (hereinafter "Yasukawa"). Daimon and Yasukawa each teaches an organic fiber filler-containing polypropylene resin with substantially identical compositions as claimed in the present invention. See Daimon, col. 2, line 35 through col. 4, line 49; Yasukawa, col. 2, lines 24-67. Although Daimon and Yasukawa does not disclose all the characteristics and properties of the claimed organic fiber filler-containing polypropylene resin, based on the substantially identical compositions, the Examiner has a reasonable basis to believe that the properties claimed in the present invention is inherent in the organic fiber filler-containing polypropylene resin disclosed by Daimon and Yasukawa. Because the PTO has no means to conduct analytical experiments, the burden of proof is shifted to the Applicants to prove that the properties are not inherent. See In re Fitzgerald, 619 F.2d 67, 205 USPQ 594 (CCPA 1980); In re Best, 195 USPQ 430 (CCPA 1977); In re Napier, 55 F.3d 610, 613, 34 USPQ2d 1782, 1784 (Fed. Cir. 1995).

4. Even if the disclosure of Daimon and Yasukawa does not satisfy the requirements of 35 USC 102(b), it still would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to arrive at the claimed organic fiber filler-containing polypropylene resin, because it appears that the claimed organic fiber filler-containing polypropylene resins are within the generic disclosure of Daimon and Yasukawa and a person of ordinary skill in the art would have expected all embodiment of Daimon and Yasukawa to have similar properties. The evidence presented to rebut the prima facie case of obviousness must be commensurate in scope with the claims to which it pertains. See In re Dill and Scales, 202 USPQ 805 (CCPA 1979).
